

Captain Jason Crosby graduated from The Citadel in May 2004 with a Bachelor's of Science Degree in Electrical Engineering. Upon graduation he was commissioned in the United States Air Force and assigned to the Air Force Research Laboratory Munitions Directorate located at Eglin Air Force Base, Florida. While there he served as a program manager for numerous defense research contracts. During this time he also deployed four months to Iraq in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom earning a Joint Service Commendation Medal. In August 2007 he moved to Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio where he is currently pursuing a Master's of Science Degree in Electrical Engineering from the Air Force Institute of Technology.