Peter Swaszek is a Professor in the Department of Electrical, Computer, and Biomedical Engineering at the University of Rhode Island with over 25 years of university experience. He received his Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering from Princeton University.

His research interests include the fields of statistical communication theory, electronic navigation, signal and image processing, Monte Carlo simulation, and pretty much any problem with an interesting mathematical bent. Relevant to this audience, he first became involved in the *e*Loran effort during a sabbatical semester at the US Coast Guard Academy in 2001, and spent the 2007-2008 academic year on sabbatical at the Coast Guard Academy.
